

Denied Coverage?

When claimants find their claims to Social Security Disability Insurance or Supplemental Security Income denied, it's important to realize they're far from the minority; well more than half of initial applications are denied.

Unfortunately, many claimants are unprepared for how to handle the process when their claims are denied and take courses of action that are far from ideal. Many claimants get dejected, believing they filed optimally, and are unsure of what to do. Others don't take the time to find out how to ideally proceed.

It's at this time that partnering with a Gainesville denied claim lawyer can be the smartest option for moving toward a best possible outcome.

North-Central Florida Denied Coverage Attorney

I'm committed to taking my 30 years of experience in Florida Social Security appeals to work for clients who have been denied benefits. I'm able to work one on one with clients to comprehensively inspect all documentation in cases to ensure that claims are airtight. From there, we move forward knowing that every possible step has been taken to ensure success in the claim.

If the claim is still denied in appeals, I prepare my clients for hearings. Depending on the situation, judges can ask difficult questions that, if answered incorrectly, can present a real threat to claim success. When clients partner with me, I completely prepare them for all possible scenarios so that they're able to handle the hearing optimally. When we work together, I never collect any fees until my clients obtain benefits.

Regardless of what stage you're at in your claim, I'm committed to bringing my experience and knowledge to work toward ideal outcomes.
